The Total Life Emergence Program: Experiencing Your Soul Purpose Blueprint

Darius: We are here. Hello and welcome, everyone. This is Darius Barazandeh. I'm so excited. We are here and this is a really special day. And I want to share with everybody something going on that happened in my life and I shared with the people that came on early for the intention work.

Many of you sent in your prayers and sent in your kind remarks and your concern. This last week my mother-in-law passed and today is Monday and we are back and I wanted to just say thank you, everybody, for the warm wishes and the blessings. We had been really in my household energetically dealing with her illness and helping her heal and helping her transition and move into a peaceful place, and it's something that in my family we've been dealing with as she lived with us. And this last week she passed.

And the thing that I know that I've learned during this week is so much about really finding the love, finding the blessing, finding the goodness in the things that unfold in our life. And it's been an incredible time of learning, of loving, and yes, sorrow and allowing the energy that is pent up as we begin to see things transition from one way into another as we see somebody's soul transition.

You know, there is emotion that comes up and being present to that. And so this last week, you know, what we did, as I mentioned in the email, was we decided that we would take some of our most powerful transformational calls and allow you to enjoy them. And I spent time really being present for my family and my wife and all of those people in my life and really being present to what messages would come forward for me as I lead this community and I lead all of us into this journey as we move into this next phase of our evolution.

So I wanted to share that and I wanted to really let everyone know that what we are moving into is a time when our soul and our hearts really are guiding our life. And I believe that the big message – when we lose something and we have to go within and re-find and re-ignite and rekindle that part of our hearts and our life so we can go on everyday – well, it's about rekindling that soul and the reason you're here, that magnificent blueprint that we were put on this planet to be.

It's not necessarily doing anything or trying to create something, but just being who you really were meant to be even in sadness and even in joy, even in loss and even in the things that come into your world that you receive; that when you are authentically and truthfully being you, whether you're crying or whether you're laughing, that is the greatest thing you can be. And when you do that, things that would be seemingly terrible challenges, that might destroy lesser people, that might allow things to crumble, they become steppingstones for your greatness, steppingstones for your awakening, steppingstones for your freedom.

And that's what we want to bring to all of you. And the tools that I use every day here at You Wealth Revolution have been incredibly beneficial for this time in my life and my family's life.

And one of the people that I wanted to bring on today to help with this, because this is a big piece and so many people have written in with challenges - how do you go back? How do you go back when you're dealing challenges and reactivate who you are, reactivate your soul, reactivate your heart so that those challenges begin dissolve as you evolve into that person you always knew yourself to be?

And we're going to be talking about this and actually doing some amazing work and some amazing transformation with Derek Rydall. Derek has been one of the favorites of the You Wealth Revolution and as I'm dealing with this I can't think of anyone else that I would love to dialog with today other than Derek. And he's here.

And we're going to realize today what your soul purpose is, your soul purpose profile. We're going to understand how you can be bigger than the challenges, how you always have been, and you're going to also understand how you can release the energies that may be keeping you absolutely stuck. And we're going to be doing some quantum healing work and helping to activate everything you're meant to be despite what you may be facing.

And after a life-changing near-death experience Derek Rydall learned exactly what his true purpose was, but he considered becoming a monk, then even a minister, and he even cloistered himself in his apartment without TV or even news, and meditated for several years. He emerged to become a licensed integrative therapist and he went on then to train top executives in Fortune 500 companies such as American Express, Disney, Carrier, Hartford Insurance, and CBS in relationship-building and deeper communication.

He's coached thousands of artists and entertainment professionals how to create more enlightened entertainment, and he's even worked with a wide array of people all over the planet just like you and me so that we can live a more purposeful life aligned to our soul and our hearts.

As a spiritual practitioner and a teacher, Derek has held many different positions with some leading new conscious groups such the Agape International Truth Center, one of the nation's largest and fastest-growing spiritual communities. He's also been a star teacher and speaker at expos such as The Learning Annex and he's also been someone here at the You Wealth Revolution that has changed thousands and thousands of lives and inspired people all over the world. And he's been recently allowing people to go deeper into his work through some incredible programs that really touch people at the heart. And you're going to hear a little bit about that and some of the interesting and amazing things that are happening energetically.

So let's give Derek a huge amount of love. Thank you, everyone, for the kind comments coming back as I shared my own personal testimony from last week to today. Let's send Derek a huge amount of love.

Derek, welcome back to the You Wealth Revolution.

One second. Let me make sure Derek's on. Derek, welcome back. Sorry about that. We didn't hear you at first.

Derek: Oh, no problem. Can you hear me now okay, Darius?

Darius: I sure can.

Derek: Awesome. Thank you, my brother. It's great to be back here and just what an honor and a privilege to be in this community, in this energetic vortex of so much love and transformation, where people are really, really saying yes to their yes and aligning themselves with this powerful emerging energy on the planet right now. So it's just really an honor to be here and to support all of you.

Darius: I want to thank you. I know we spent some time before the call sharing kind of what happened in my life this week, and I know that so much of this is really about connecting to your soul and allowing that deeper journey to unfold. No matter what it may appear from the surface, there is a deeper journey. I guess the question I had, Derek, starting out is: is this all related to our soul purpose?

Derek: Absolutely. And actually even before we dive right now, I just want to invite everyone to something, because I know hear so many of these calls and these topics and these ideas, so many of us, and it's really easy to not really, you know, to use this moment as a means for some future moment. Like I'm going to get something now and eventually I'll learn something or it'll cause some result in my life.

And I want to invite everybody to understand that this moment right now, what if this moment and this call could actually be that moment that you have the breakthrough – as opposed to a steppingstone to the breakthrough? Like, what if right now the only moment that transformation can really happen is in the now?

So I sort of set an intention, because I speak so much that it's easy for me to fall into speaking from what I think I know rather than speaking for the first time. And so I've set the intention to show up for you all for the first time. And so I invite all of you to listen for the first time and even to listen not just to what I'm saying but to listen to what I'm listening to, because there's a vibrational broadcast that's going on that is the same broadcast that's been going on through all the masters and through all the people that you admire or aspire to be, that same frequency, that same energetic vibration, the power of wholeness and of abundance, it's speaking right where you are. And so even though I'm being sort of the channel as the so-called teacher, I invite you to listen and to tap into even what I'm listening to.

And I found that when people settle into that, that you hear exactly what you need to hear even if... You know, it's funny. People will come to me and say: 'You know, when you shared about such and such and it was so amazing,' and I know I didn't actually say that, but because we set the frequency, the field for them to hear what they needed to hear, they were listening to what I was listening to and they were able to receive exactly what they needed. So I just wanted to set the stage with that. It can really make a big difference in what you receive today. So yeah, that's where I wanted to start.

And in terms of why this is so important... You were asking about how it's connected to the soul purpose. Is that right, Darius?

Darius: Yeah, yeah.

Derek: So the reason why, you know, connecting to your soul purpose... Understand that your purpose is not something you make up. It's what you're made of. It's your true nature. It's your vibrational address. And the unfortunate truth is that most people aren't living at their true vibrational address. You know, literally the light is on but nobody's home. We've become disconnected from that. And we're trying to solve all the problems in our life to increase our wealth, to heal our body, to find a new relationship or heal it, to heal our mental emotional bodies, and so we're doing all these separate things to heal those.

And what I've discovered over two decades of working with hundreds of thousands of people around the planet in this kind of work is that most of those problems are symptoms of this disconnect from that essential vibrational address of what I call your soul purpose blueprint, and that when people come home again to that, when they get reconnected to that, realigned with that, and their life is congruent with who they really are, those problems start to heal.

And you said this at the top of the call. You can't really solve a problem. Problems aren't solved. They actually exist at a certain vibrational address. And so it's like ice. You know, ice exists at 32 degrees Fahrenheit or zero degrees Celsius, and as long as you're living at that vibrational frequency, that vibrational address, no matter what you do to that ice - if you throw water on it, heat it up - whatever you do you'll always have the problem or the potential problem of ice. But when you move out of that vibrational frequency, when you evolve above that, you don't solve the problem of ice; the ice dissolves as you evolve, because the ice lives at that frequency.

And most of what we're trying to do is we're trying to solve all these problems in our life that are like hardened crystallized vibrational setpoints, whether it's our financial setpoint, our health setpoint, our relational setpoint. They're like these ice blocks that are living at a certain vibrational setpoint and we're trying to solve them while staying at that setpoint. And you can't do that.

No matter what you do, you'll always find yourself right back in that same place. Even if you use all these... As I like to say, you may manifest a bigger paycheck but you just find yourself broke at a higher-income bracket. You know, I know a lot of really wealthy people who are just as afraid of losing their money and not having enough as people that aren't wealthy, because they're still stuck at that frequency where the ice is hardened.

And so getting back in touch with this soul purpose blueprint or this vibrational address where all that you've been trying to get has already been delivered... You know, it's like the package has been delivered, right? You've been praying and affirming and doing all this great work and all of your riches are being delivered to your vibrational home address but you're not there to receive it.

And so knowing what that soul purpose blueprint is, that vibrational address, and coming home, the problems start to dissolve, the gift starts to emerge and life becomes not a problem to be solved but an adventure to be lived.

Darius: Yeah. I love that. And I found that to be true, that at one vibrational setpoint, you know... I can try to ask for more and more water, but it just becomes more and more ice. It becomes more stuck energy.

In other words, when I'm really down or I'm really down energetically and I'm really only seeing one side of things, I could ask for all the water in the world because I'm thirsty, but it just becomes ice and I'm stuck in it. You know, it burns me, because it's so cold. But as that energy rises and my vibration changes, it becomes what it's supposed to be.

And I want to hear from people, because as I faced this this week and last week and as we go through this transition, me and my family, I know there are a lot people here dealing with challenges and I want to address them and see what it is that they need.

One person is dealing with an abundance challenge. Another person is dealing with really living their truth. Another person has a personal problem – Sandy. She hasn't said what it is but she must see it resolved.

Another person really doesn't know what their life purpose is. Another person is just really wondering how they can live a life that's really going to fulfill them. And as you hear all these challenges, Derek, quick question: I mean, how does this really relate to finding that soul purpose? Can the soul purpose begin to unwind a lot of this stuck ice, a lot of this dense vibration that people are feeling?

Derek: Absolutely. And it's one thing I wanted to address also, because in know a lot of people might be thinking, you know: 'Well, I tried a bunch of transformational stuff and all the different healing modalities and none of it's worked or even probably made things worse in some cases and why is this different and what going on?' - because of course that's a very common issue. And it's kind of like, you know... So you turn this incredible... You know, let's say you do some healing energetic work or something from a standpoint that's not really transformative but it's trying to solve the problem of the ice.

So you're spraying a bunch of hot water on the ice, right? Think of that hot water as like the healing energy or the modality or whatever it is. You're trying to get rid of the ice. I want people to really hear the distinction here because it's not merely semantics. So you're spraying that hot water on the ice, right? And for a moment the ice might seem to melt, but you're still at 32 degrees because you're trying to dissolve the ice. Now, what's going to happen a little while later? All of that water that you sprayed on that ice has now become more ice and it's become an exacerbation of the problem. It's become a magnification of the frustration or the pain or the struggle, because you're still at that level, which is why Einstein said: 'You cannot solve a problem at the level of thinking that it was created at.'

And so that's why the big shift here is moving away from being problem-solvers. And this is hard because we've been trained to focus and fixate on what appears to be missing and try to fix it, or attract it, or add to it. And it's about moving our attention to that higher frequency, which is the vision, which asking different questions: what is trying to emerge through me? Who would I have to become in order to be at peace in this situation?

There's a different set of questions and processes and work that's not trying to solve the problem anymore. You move from a problem-solver to a vision-holder, to a vision-accelerator or a vision-radiator and that lifts your frequency.

Another example... You know, this is kind of a funny example but it's true. When they teach racecar drivers how to drive, one of the things that you have to deal with is spinning out of control and crashing into a wall. And so what they teach them is when you're spinning out of control and you're heading for that wall whether it's... You know, could can think of whatever analogy that represents for you and your life... the instinct is to look at the wall so that you can turn away from it and not hit it. But what happens if you look at the wall, you'll hit it.

And so what they do is they teach you very counter-intuitively look away from the wall, look away from the problem and look to where you want to go, because the hands will follow the eyes and you will pull yourself out of that spin and you will have a much greater chance of avoiding impact, avoiding that problem, and getting back on track again.

And the same thing is true vibrationally and energetically. If you focus on the wall, the problem, you are now vibrationally a match for that and you're going to hit it and you're going to stay stuck in it. But if you move your attention to where you want to go – and there's a lot of both external and internal processes that I teach to do that – you are now lifting your frequency and vibrationally evolving. And the energy flows where your attention goes.

And this is why the grand masters have taught us do not judge by appearances, but judge righteous discernment – which means based on what's true, based on the spiritual impulse or what I call the visionary vibration - getting back in touch with that.

So it's a challenging process, because we've been so indoctrinated to solve our problems. I have a health issue. Let me solve that health issue. I have a financial issue. Let me solve that financial issue. And if you guys can get anything from this, get that how you solve that is actually 180 degrees away from it. That's why we struggle into the same problems over and over again in our society. It's because we're still trying to solve the problems at the same frequency that the problems exist.

So this technology of quantum healing and soul purpose activation is retraining our mind and our emotions and literally our energy anatomy to begin to realign, to begin to become masterful at focusing on the higher frequency that's actually trying to emerge. And then of course - which I'm helping to activate even during this call and we'll talk more about this later - having an energetic environment that supports you, because so often even when we do all the right things we're still stuck in the inertia, the vibrational inertia of these old patterns, like gravity that keeps pulling us back.

Darius: Right.

Derek: So it really helps to have a vibrational boost to break you out of that gravitational pull into that higher frequency, and we'll talk more about how you do that.

But that's the key. The big paradigm shift is moving your attention away from the problem and asking questions that open you up to actually what is trying to emerge by means of that problem, because that crisis is actually an evolutionary trigger.

It's calling. It's telling you what your soul purpose blueprint really is. It's giving you clues about who you really are and it's even setting the stage, if you're willing and able to ask the right questions, to break free through that.

You know, like I often talk about the forest fire for pine cones is actually the evolutionary conditions that causes the pine cones to break free and to grow and for the forest to evolve and to thrive. And so when we're struggling, when you understand it from this framework, you can begin to look at those things as that opportunity that you've actually been praying for, believe it or not.

Darius: Yeah. Well, I love what you've said about frequency and sort of the quantum energy and what can happen when that begins to shift.

Glenda just wrote in from Cathedral City and she said: 'Listening to what I'm listening to is key and it's shifting my frequency. I felt that immediately on the call. I could almost see both of you at this moment,' and she is feeling a shift of energy just being on the call.

And what I wanted to share with everyone here was that really what Derek is saying is being in connection to what is trying to reach you, being in connection to the thing that is not your problem but the greater energy that is outside of the problem, that is the divine love energy that is trying to reach you, and by turning away from the problem and looking at it you will begin to feel that energy come in.

And I know a lot of people are starting to feel that. That, Derek, is something... you know, I've heard you talk about quantum healing and sort of some of those quantum energy forces that you work with. A lot of people are not even sure what a quantum healing is and I want to begin talking with you about that. What is a quantum healing and what has been your work in the quantum healing area? Because for some people that might be a new thing that they've not necessarily seen you do, yet you do it every time you're here.

Derek: Well, it's actually the deepest work that I do. It's only that I've only mostly been doing it in private. And as the energy has been accelerating so much it's just being called forth for me to be more and more public about it. That's really where I started. I started as a healer and, you know, when I was going to become a monk and I was doing the monk life I would have recurring dreams for really several years where I was doing a lot of healing. And it turned out that a lot of them weren't dreams; they were really shamanic journeys where I was doing a lot of energetic healing in between, you know, inter-dimensional healing - which sounds kind of out there and that's why I didn't share it for so long.

But I started to notice when I would have experiences with someone where I was with someone at one point and they were like, they were at my home and they were going to leave and they said: 'I have a terrible headache,' and I could immediately see their energy body and I could see where the headache was and before I could even think how crazy this is, I was able to move the energy out and they were instantly healed.

Derek: And that's happened over and over. And then it began to happen while I was just on the call with someone non-locally. So they could be in Sweden or Africa or Germany or wherever they were and I could sense the energetic dissonance, the disconnect, the incongruence between their soul purpose blueprint – that vibrational address – and I could hear it in their voice, I could feel it in their field, and then either just directly energetically or through what I call vibrational linguistics. Through the words I'm using and the words that they're telling me, I could re-arrange that energetically and they would have a breakthrough. Not in weeks or months, but in minutes.

So that started to happen more and more and more. And it's been happening with exceeding rapidity until this last live event that I did where the healings and the breakthroughs were coming so fast that even I was sort... I was shocked. I was taken aback by it. You know, everywhere from debt being eliminated, to bodies being healed, to relationships being healed. And sometimes the relationships healing looked like them having the courage to leave a relationship or finding a new relationship. You know, financial downpours, hundreds of thousands of dollars.

So that's just been happening more and more and more and the message I'd been getting more and more and more is that I need to be out of the closet with this, you know? Not just doing the Trojan Horse of talking but all these wonderful processes, which is still very powerful work, but that there's a whole other level of quantum healing that's going on.

And the other thing I want to say about quantum healing, it's a little bit of a misnomer.

Darius: Okay.

Derek: Healing is a bit of a misnomer. What's really happening... When I learned to be a healer, what I learned was that if I walk into a hospital and I see a sick person, I need to turn around and walk back out. And I'm not allowed to go back into that hospital until I see a whole person. And that's how the great healers have healed - the master healers. They didn't see a problem and then try to heal it. Because if I see a problem, I'm stuck with you – I'm stuck with you in the vibrational ditch.

Darius: Okay.

Derek: So the quantum healing work is that I'm clearing the vibrational field when I'm with a person...

Darius: Ah.

Derek: Until I don't see... And I can feel it being activated even right now. Everyone just take a breath. Because I can feel the energy moving right now, so people are starting to key into this.

So what's happening is that energetically I'm clearing anything. Because there's really not two of us or three of us or more - there's just one field of consciousness. And ultimately the vibrational home address is where we all live; that as I come home again to that frequency I'm connected right where you are. And as I clear out any of the lower frequencies that are tempting me to believe that there's something other than perfection here, then because there's only one of us, because it's omnipresent and simultaneous right where the individual is, that gets activated. Or that particular issue gets dissolved, that frequency gets dissolved, and that potential gets activated.

So this is also being shown in quantum physics, through quantum entanglement and non-local healing. I mean, it's not entirely woo-woo anymore. But that's what's happening. So either through talking with the person or just sitting in the field with their energy, I'm actually sensing this vibrational blocks or vibrational lower frequencies. I'm clearing them out until all that I see and feel and vibrate with is that perfect pattern that's already planted in the soil of their soul.

And as I catch that, it's cultivating the right conditions and they'll call me or they'll email me and say: 'A healing has happened,' or: 'A problem has dissolved.' But what's really happening – and this is what I mean by healing is sort of a misnomer – nothing has really been healed; it's just that the false concepts, beliefs, stories and lower frequencies that have been obscuring the wholeness, the perfect pattern that's always there has been removed.

So instead of a healing, it's more of a revealing. I could call it quantum revealing, because what's it really doing is it's revealing what's always been there - the perfect pattern, the wholeness, the abundance, the love, the joy. That's why I teach people there's nothing wrong with you. You know, when Jesus healed and somebody would say: 'You know, heal me, master, I've got this...' He would say to them: 'What hinders you?' You know, he's looking at them and going: 'I don't see a problem. Pick-up your bed and walk. Open your eyes. Stretch forth your hand.'

There was a healer in the Appalachians and people would come to her and they would be struggling with all manner of stuff. They'd tell her their story and she would look them up and down and she would just say: 'T'ain't so.' T'-A-I-N-T. So she basically would look at them and go: 'That's not true. I don't see that.' And in that space, in that field they were able to wake up to that wholeness, you know, and that's why it's really the consciousness of wholeness is what heals. And that's what quantum healing ultimately is.

Darius: Yeah. So it's really holding that consciousness of 'wholeness' for a community, for a group and actually being to be able to see that.

Derek: Exactly.

Darius: And when you see that in your mind's eye or in your third eye or however you see it, then that person is cleared, right, of that vibrational block or resonance.

Derek: Exactly. And it's not even... Really quickly. It's not even in the mind's eye. It's deeper than that. It's beyond my mind. It's like beyond the mind, beyond the imagination, beyond Derek's idea of anything. I just become clear and there's a moment of a knowing. There's literally a feeling. It's like a pressure valve opens up and it's peace. They call it in the Bible 'the peace that passes human understanding.'

Darius: Right.

Derek: There's a peace. There's a bliss. There's an energetic that gets released and activated. And I know... You know, people have said: 'I know that God is on the field now.' And in that moment I know that the answer is: 'It's done.'

And it unfolds in the perfect time and order that's necessary for that individual. And sometimes it's instant; sometimes it's right as I'm talking to them, because right as I'm talking to them I feel the opening happen. And sometimes depending on what their journey is, other things have to be unlocked or activated like a vibrational code. But it's all unfolding. The minute that click happens the work is done.

Darius: Okay. Wow. We've got a lot of comments coming and a lot of questions. One person's asking: 'How do I know I could benefit from a quantum healing?' She said: 'How would I know if I need one?' but I just want to just use the word 'benefit' because I want to really like be clear that this is something that your whole being, your whole and complete being... I don't think people need anything but I think there's signs that you could benefit. What would some of those signs be in someone's life? What would they show up as?

Derek: Yeah. I mean, everybody can benefit, but there has to be a level of receptivity.

Darius: Okay.

Derek: You know, you have to be open and willing. You have to want it. That's the first thing. And what I find is that some of the most juicy and ripe and ready individuals fall in a few categories. Individuals that are struggling from a chronic issue. So our chronic problems are evidence that we're living in a world too small. It means that we've activated a large life but we're still holding on to our old identity.

And so it's like the acorn yearning looking out a field oak trees and it feels like there's something about that that's calling it. And now the oak is trying is to emerge but the acorn's trying to hold on to its protective shell. And there's this pressure and this cracking and this chronic issue. And so for those individuals where there's a chronic issue it's almost always they've activated something.

So they've already activated through desire, through intention, through prayer, but they are still holding on to an old vibrational frequency and for those sometimes it's like - bam! You know, it can just crack open.

Another individual who has the burning desire... It's like not just sort of 'Yeah, I'd like to have a lot more money,' or 'Yeah, I'd like to have a relationship,' but it's like their heart is aching. They're aching for something and that desire from the emergence model, it's not a sign of something out of you that you need to go get. It's actually a sign of something inside of you that's trying to get out. And desire comes from a root that means 'of the sire' or 'of the father' or 'of the creator source' or 'from the heavens'. So it's really telling you... that burning desire saying you're pregnant with something.

And so the quantum energy work actually - whew! And then the soul activation work it's like it gets you - really, it's just like that extra - it's like puts you into labor. You know, it likes gives birth to it. So that's a really ripe place to be in.

And the other person is the person that's just at their wit's end of they know there's something more, they know they want to do something, and they know if they don't do something... It's like I have to change now or never. Like they just know. It's what I call the urgency of emergence, and if you don't listen to that you end up with an emergency, right?

So those people that have chronic issues, burning desires or they're feeling that urgency of emergence are particularly ripe. Like those are the people that are just like popcorn. But anyone who's struggling on any level or yearning on any level, if they're willing to go for it and willing to be loved and supported and to let this energy... to know that they don't have to do it on their own anymore, that there's a vibrational field of so much love and so much support that wants to get in and heal and help and uplift you more than you even want it for yourself, because you are the way that the universe puts its beauty on display. You are the way that love gets to embrace the world. Like you're the way that God gets to shine – whatever term you want to use.

And so just know that if you're willing, and you're willing to resign from being the manager of the universe and just be an employee, that there's so much love and support that's knocking at your door trying to get in. And my work is to help soften the soil and to make that space more and more juicy and receptive so you can receive. Then it works. It can work for you. That's been my experience.

Darius: Yeah. This is, you know, for me a huge piece, because I know as you talk about this quantum healing, you talk about this energy, when you're at this different frequency, when you allow this to come in, I've heard you say that your challenges, they actually dissolve as you begin to evolve and it's a pure energetic process. Tell me a little bit about that dissolving process as people evolve through these quantum healings. What have you seen and what can you share about that?

Derek: Yeah. So it's like as we're talking about in the beginning, you know. You cannot solve a problem.

Darius: Okay.

Derek: It's an impossibility. Like I said, the ice lives at 32 degrees Fahrenheit. No matter what you do, if you stay at 32 degrees you're always going to have the problem of ice. Or you have to kind of always be struggling and striving to get rid of it. You will always... That's where ice live.

So what I want people to understand is that whatever problem you're going through right now, understand that's where it lives. You're living at its house, right? You're living in the house of limitation. You're living in the house of whatever your problem's name is. That's where you're living right now. So think of it like a house, a vibrational house. But your real home, where your soul purpose blueprint, where that really lives, those problems don't exist. And that's why Einstein said: 'Arrows of hate have been shot at my direction many times but they no longer touch me because they come from a world I no longer inhabit.'

And so what happens is as we do this work and when I work with people it's over a period of time or it could be even instantaneously like for some of you on the call right now as I'm helping to activate that field. And there's different ways. That's why I call it vibrational linguistics. It can happen through changing the questions you ask. It can happen through certain process. It can happen using your body and beginning to align physically with the life that's more congruent. So, for example, let's just say you have a vision of abundance, more abundance...

Darius: Right.

Derek: And if I were to look at your life and energetically feel it but also mentally, emotionally, verbally and physically - because understand that it's all energy, as we all know - or most of us - and that energy gets transmuted into your thoughts, into your emotions, into your words and into your behavior. So the whole spectrum from pure energy, to thought, to emotion, to words, to behavior.

So I don't just look at a person energetically but I look at how that energy is showing up along the whole spectrum. And then I don't just adjust the quantum field energetically to help you get more aligned, but then to support and accelerate that we then adjust the mental, emotional, verbal and physical.

And the good news is that even though you might be stuck literally energetically, as we adjust you on these other levels and start to align you so and create strategies even, so that your life starts to look and sound... you start to walk and talk more and more as if you are the person you want to be while we're doing this deeper energetic work, it's almost like the combination lock on a vault. It's like ching, ching, ching, ching, ching, and then the combination goes: tschk, tschk, tschk, tschk, tschk, tschk, tschk, tschk, tschk and the cosmic tumbler just clicks into place and opens it up. I don't know if you can all feel that, like - fhoo!

Darius: Yeah.

Derek: So I'm working with people on those different levels and you can all do the same. And again that goes by asking certain questions. It's like what is seeking to emerge by means of this situation? Who would I have to become in consciousness to be free in this situation? So notice I'm not saying: 'How do you solve the situation?'

Darius: Right.

Derek: I'm asking: 'Who do I need to become to be free in the midst of it? What is trying to emerge by means of it? What is that spiritual aspiration behind the human aberration? You know, what is the larger vision? And then if I was living that larger vision, how would I feel and who would I be? And then what would it look like to step into that being now?'

So I've just walked you through a vibrational linguistic process that as you answer those questions and honor those, you are lifting your vibration above 32 degrees Fahrenheit. And as you do that the ice is going to begin to melt naturally. And so that's a little quick way how I work with people.

Darius: Wow. Well, a lot of people are feeling the huge potential of this. We had quite a few people writing in saying: 'This seems uncanny because I was praying for this. I've been meditating trying to figure this out.' That's what Rochelle said, and then she came home and hopped on this call.

And so, you know, what I'm feeling for people is they want a taste of some of this and at least get a sense of whether they could activate something in their life through some of this work. Can we actually go through maybe a prayer or something that could help so many here just know that there is much deeper, much broader part of them that's bigger than the challenges facing them? And I want to be onboard on that as well as, you know, my family's going through challenges this week. Is there anything we could do?

Derek: Yeah, there's a couple of things that I'm just feeling called to address also. That is that I want people to understand... because we started talking about the soul purpose blueprint and then we've talked a lot about the quantum healing and how it's all connected and why is it so important, because I really want to move you all away from... And I understand how much you want to have more money, more health, more relationships, better relationships, better job, more purpose, more work in the world, whatever that is – and I'm with you and that is absolutely the byproduct. That's the whole point here.

And what I want people to understand is that it's all connected to your congruence or lack of congruence with that vibrational home address, with that soul purpose blueprint. And that's why even in proverbs it says: 'Where there is no vision, the people perish.' You know, it didn't say: 'Where there is no vision, the people have a bad day,' right?

Derek: It's like getting back in touch with that vision that's trying to emerge as your life, you know, that place that you're really being called to go mentally, emotionally, vibrationally, literally. That's like Job Number One – getting back in touch with that. That's gives us the North Star so we know where we're going. That's the radio station where your music is already broadcasting. It's another analogy that I'm known for is that your music is already playing. The music of health and wealth and joy and genius and love and companionship. I'm telling you what I know. It's already broadcasting right where you are, that frequency at Station K-R-I-C-H - KRICH or KJOY.

But because of these coping strategies that we've learned to adapt and conform and get-by and survive, we've created strategies that are energetically tuning us in to KLACK, you know? To K-L-A-C-K. And then we're trying to just navigate and negotiate and manipulate ourself through that vibrational field. And it will never work.

I really want people to hear that. That's my mission. It will never work. You will never be free of your problems and your challenges as long as you're trying to solve them at that same setpoint, at that same radio station. But when you start to open up to the vision, to that higher frequency that's calling you, that vision for your life, as I said, that shows up in these different areas... There's really seven paths to your purpose and I can talk about those, that show you what's trying to show up for you. And as you make your primary focus tuning into that frequency more important than anything – and I really mean that – then what happens is you tune yourself into that station where your music is already playing and you don't happen; you make it welcome. You open up to the... I'm telling you, and I can feel it right now - whew! There's so much good. I can just feel this energy just... The universe is standing on its tiptoes just saying: 'Please, hear my song.' And in fact that's what universe means. Uni-verse stands for one song. The song is already playing. Tune into me. Tune into this song.

If you're willing and able to do that – and that's what we're talking about how to do – if you make that Job Number One, all these other things you've been struggling to figure out, they're just going to dissolve, because they're not playing on that station. On station KLACK you've got the blues and all the negative talk radio and all the bad stuff going on. On station KRICH, that's not playing. So you don't have to try to get rid of all that stuff. When you tune into that station, that music is no longer playing.

And so that's also why the Gospel of Thomas says: 'If you bring forth what is within you...' - which is this higher vibrational vision and frequency and purpose - 'what you bring forth will save you. But if you do not bring forth what is within you, what you do not bring forth...' - that vibrational frequency not being allowed to be brought forth - 'it will destroy you.'

Because that energy now gets broken up and defracted and it can't get out and then that's what shows up as the blockages - mentally, emotionally, physically, financially, relationally, etc.

Does that make sense? Can you see that, Darius? The whole pattern of how when we're disconnected from that core vision and purpose the byproducts are all the things we've been struggling with and we have to stop struggling with those byproducts and come back home again to making this reconnection our number one priority? And that's what I'm dedicated to helping people what to do is getting back in touch with that vibrational frequency, that soul purpose blueprint, that home address, and getting them so congruent with that that they become unshakable and unbreakable and unstoppable.

Darius: Yeah.

Derek: And just really quickly. For those of you that are wondering: Well, how do I know? What is that higher vision? What is that higher purpose or that higher frequency that's trying to emerge through me? How do I even know what that is? Because that's obviously – because that's one of the biggest questions I get, because like, yeah, I feel like there's a bigger life and a better life and I don't want to struggle with my problems. I want to focus on my higher purpose and that higher energy but how do I know what it is? How do I start tuning into it?

So there's a few ways. I call it the Seven Paths to your Soul Purpose – and we've talked about a few of them. One of them is your chronic pain or problem. So as I said before, that chronic pain or problem is often an indication of a larger vision that's trying to emerge through you. It's that oak tree bumping up against the acorn shell. And so instead of trying to solve it or avoid it you start asking these questions we've been talking about, like, okay, what is the higher idea or possibility or quality or vision trying to emerge by means of this? How is this creating the conditions to call more of me forth? Even just notice when you ask that question it's got a higher frequency. You immediately feel more expanded than asking: Why is it this happening? What's wrong with me? What's the problem? You feel the energetic contraction.

Darius: Right.

Derek: So that's the first path.

Darius: Yes.

Derek: The second path is your deepest desire. So what is that burning desire? – and we talked about that. It's a sign of what you're already pregnant with. And now the question is you ask: How do I become more congruent with that. If this desire was true about me, who would I be? What would I do? That's the quick little tactic to begin to become congruent with that path.

The third thing is that thing in the world that infuriates you or breaks your heart the most. I call it the Heartbreak Bridge. And again it's not about going out and trying to solve it initially; it's knowing that right there on that bridge where you are most angry or hurt, if you're willing to go into that - we can't go into all the ways to do that but to ask: what is seeking to be born through me by means of this? Or how do I need to grow or what do I need to become to be at peace in the means of this? Or what is this calling me to step into.

You start asking those kind of questions rather than: Why are they doing this? And that jerk! Why is this happening? And what's wrong? - which are lower frequency question. They'll contract your energy. They'll tune you back into KLACK.

What I just said will tune you up to dial to KRICH or KJOY, which will make you receptive to the next stage of your own unfoldment.

The fourth one is the people that inspire you the greatest in the world, whether they are historical or present, they just really pull you. That's showing you a projection of your own unintegrated power. So you begin to reclaim that shadow projection, that light shadow and ask: If this was true about me, this thing that I'm seeing on that person out there, if that was true about me, how would I feel, what do I do, and now how can I step into that? That's another way to start. I'm using practical ways.

The next one is the people that drive you crazy. Not just the people that push your buttons but the ones that make you insane. That's showing you another aspect that you've rejected in yourself that's being called.

And the places, the objects, the things that hold a deep fascination and luminosity for you. That's an indication of some quality within your own being that's trying to be activated.

All of these things are like the lighthouse that's calling you home. And because we've learned a life outside-in, we're looking at the world and thinking it's all going on out there. But when you look at out the world it's really the way that the universe looks back at itself again. You're just seeing a projection of your own soul purpose blueprint and its attempt to unfold and emerge through you. And so what I'm talking about here is how to keep reclaiming... These are like vibrational breadcrumbs that lead you back on the path to your vibrational home again.

And then the final one here is the greatest traumas in your life. The earliest and greatest traumas that you've been trying to get over or heal actually contain your deepest opportunities and your deepest messages. As I like to say, your greatest message is contained in your biggest messes.

And so that's like the seven paths that lead you back to your soul purpose or the vibrational breadcrumbs that lead you back to your vibrational home address. And any one of those might be calling you more or less, but as you just honor that and don't look away from it, don't try to solve it, but let it open you up and ask those kinds of questions, you're going to lift your vibration step-by-step.

So these are things you can do for yourself. These are things I also help people facilitate.

Darius: Yeah. I love that. And I can feel the vibrational shift that happens when people begin to go through that process and just asking those questions and moving that.

You know, I want to talk a little bit about those people that really want maybe to get some help moving into that space. I mean, one of the things that you did recently was a whole quantum healing in a few different areas. Tell me what happened with some of the people that you went deeper with, that you facilitated, that you went in and you saw those energetic blocks, you cleared some of that vibrational frequency, you helped them elevate to that higher level that maybe, you know, when you've never done it, it can be challenging. What happened to those people that you actually guided through to the higher level?

Derek: Yeah. As I said before at the top of this call, I've been called more and more and more to come fully out of the closet with the healing work, the vibrational healing work, the quantum healing work. It's like we all have those thresholds where we're sort of saying no to our yes. And I finally said yes to the yes fully and it just sort of opened up this whole energetic field at a whole new level and in the last event we just did where we did this live and quantum healing work ongoingly, I was - you know honestly this is not to boast - I was truly humbled and blown away by how many healings and breakthroughs were happening.

I mean, like I said a little before, I think collectively we had hundreds... For sure – not think - we had hundreds of thousands of dollars in new money that people earned. We had tens of thousands of dollars in debt that suddenly was eliminated or paid off. We had probably at least a half-dozen actual physical healings, another half dozen people that got new jobs, new work. I mean, it was so much that I could not... I just sort of stopped. I have to go back and really kind of keep up with and curate all the testimonials and breakthroughs because there were so many of them and just over and over again.

Not to mention like lifelong emotional issues that were healed - which cannot be underrated because what that frees up for a person in terms of what they're able to now do... Or people who had been struggling all their life to know what they're to do. There were so many people that popped into their purpose. And again, this is not merely that they discovered their job - which is part of it and great - but energetically it was like finally being able to... like the energetic tsunami that starts to unfold in their life as they start to... It's like touching those wires that have been disconnected. Suddenly they're so energized, they're so excited about their life, they're so inspired again, they're so in love with their life again. I mean, that cannot be underrated.

So that happened for so many people. So just all of these things. And again I'm really careful for it to sound hype-y. I'm really just a witness to it and I'm just really excited about it. And it's important. I keep remembering that it's not personal; it's principle.

And what's happening is that a principle is being activated here. And so it doesn't matter where you are. It doesn't matter what you've been through. It doesn't matter how long you've been on the shelf, how long you've been not living your full potential. It's like if you plant a seed in the soil and you cultivate the right conditions, the law of emergence and the soil can't say to that seed: 'You know, I'd love to grow you but it's too late.' Or: 'I'd love to grow you but you come from a long line of seeds that never really amounted to much,' right? You know? It can't do that.

When the conditions are right energetically it must grow. And so what's happening is that because of me saying yes to my yes and because of the structure of the support group and the dynamics of the programs, the conditions are just right and the energetic frequencies are working on people even before they work on themselves.

So it's kind of like getting behind a semi-truck, you know? If any of you know, like, that backdraft. You've pull in behind it and you ease up and it will actually suck you. It will pull you.

And so I think what's happening is that people are... Or if any of you ever seen, like, those wind things where you in them and like they teach you how to parachute. It's like a wind tunnel and you just jump in, it's just like whoosh! You just get lifted. Energetically that's what's happening in this work. People are stepping into it and it's like they're just lifted.

Darius: Wow.

Derek: And just rapid breakthroughs. And all the old stuff gets cleared out and brought up to be released and stuff that they haven't been able to see suddenly they can see it clearly.

So that's like a brief little sense of what's been happening with this kind of work and it's just beginning. You know, it's really, really very exciting. And if we have time, by the way, because I know you asked me before if I could walk them through a little process, I certainly would do that also.

Darius: Yeah. I think this'll be great. Let's do that and just knowing that what we want to do is begin opening up some of these doorways to a higher vibration. And I know that as we change our vantage point, as we change what we're seeing, what we're looking at, that begins to change the entire vibrational environment that we operate in. There's no doubt in my life and in my mind and in my heart that I wouldn't be here today if I hadn't done this not only many years ago, but continue to do it as life unfolds.

Because I know Derek, because we were talking, life just continues to unfold and we have to readjust those vibrational setpoints again and again.

Let's go through something that can help us begin that process.

Derek: Absolutely. This is one of the most powerful shifts that I do in this work, which is around... as we're trying to key into that vibrational home address, that soul purpose blueprint, that true self and their true power, what often comes up for people... I just invite everybody to close their eyes right now. What often comes up is what I call a shadow block. And it's basically a shadow that we have that's often unconscious – that's why it's a shadow. And a lot of our operations to try to solve a problem is really a reaction. It's a coping mechanism to not have to look at this part of us and most of our self-improvement has been designed around that to avoid those parts of us, to fix some change and heal and get rid of them. And that's actually keeping us stuck at that vibrational setpoint and when we turn around and embrace it, we free ourselves from that setpoint and we're able to lift. It's like releasing bags from a hot air balloon that's weighed down and the energy that's already in the heat of it, it lifts it automatically.

So take a moment and think about maybe an area where you feel stuck or you're struggling and notice what you're pushing for or what you're trying to achieve or solve or what you're trying to get away from - you're trying to not be, not have, not experience. For example, let's say you're trying to achieve some kind of success. Notice what is the thing... You want to achieve that so that you're not what? So that you're not a loser? So that you're not a failure? Or maybe it's so that people will think better of you, so that your dad will be proud of you, that your partner will think you're... And then ask what will that make me feel like? Like I'm not a failure, like I'm worthy, like I'm valuable. And then what's the opposite of that?

So just get in touch with what it is you're pushing for or you're pushing away from; what is it you're trying to achieve or solve and trying to get away from something to not have or to not be or to not experience. Or maybe you're trying to find love because you don't want to feel alone or unlovable or unworthy. Just see if you identify some quality that you're trying to push away from or get rid of or change or heal that just feels bad inside of you. I'm unworthy, I'm lonely, I'm unlovable, I'm a loser, I'm stupid, I'm a failure... And notice the compulsive actions that you're trying to do to fix that, to solve that. And that's usually where you're stuck.

Or you can just think of like what is the worst thing someone could call you or have called you and you found yourself defending it and fighting to deny it. That's another way to identify that shadow.

And finally one other way to identify it if you're still not on it yet is what someone in your life that really pushes your buttons and if you could very honestly and rawly describe that person... Don't be spiritual. Be very raw and judgmental. They're such a what? They're so what? And find the one that just grates against your soul the most. That's your shadow – at least one of them.

So now just take a breath and be with that feeling and notice where you feel it in your body, notice its shape. It has a shape energetically. And notice it has a color, a temperature... What's its temperature? What's its color? What's its shape? Take a breath and allow yourself to really feel that feeling. You're safe in this feel that's being activated, that's holding you and loving you. You're safe to feel those feelings now. How old does that feeling feel? What age? And when is the earliest you remember feeling that?

Just right now let yourself go back to that moment, that experience where you first remember feeling that feeling and let yourself be there. Let yourself see it and describe it to yourself. I'm sitting there on the porch. I've just been punished. My dad is working in the yard. Like just describe it to yourself silently so you really see it and feel it and you're present with it.

And now ask yourself: what decision did I make about myself about life? What did I decide that I would never do or never be or that I couldn't do or couldn't be? Just become aware. Even now this awareness is beginning to free you from this frequency, it's releasing the resistance, it's healing you even now.

And now notice that quality again, that part of you that you wanted to get rid of - the feeling a failure, unworthy. And now imagine that part separates from that little version of you - the little boy or the little girl or the teenage boy or teenage girl, whatever it is – and now you see the shadow version - the unworthy, the loser, the stupid, whatever that shadow version.

And now you're going to talk to them for a moment, just a moment, and ask this part of you, this shadow part of you... Notice what they look like. Ask them how have they actually served you all along? What are all the ways that this experience and your attempt to reject it, change it, heal it has caused you to grow? Your attempt to not be stupid has caused you to become really smart in a lot of ways - to go to college, to get an education or the part of you that felt unlovable has taught you to be really lovable and kind to others.

Just notice all the gifts of this experience, all the gifts of this part of you and really feel the gratitude around that. Some of your greatest traits have been developed as a result of that. And we're just moving through this quickly right now but just energetically trust to know that it's happening. The integration is happening.

And now ask this part of you: what is their gift or this message now that you need to hear and embrace for your current situation? And what does this part of you need from you in order to be totally healed and integrated so that you can move on? And listen. It's speaking right now energetically and linguistically.

Take a deep breath and ask: what will my life look like as I let this part of me become fully integrated? And now just jump right there. See your life, feel it, feel the possibility, feel the new outcome, the new results. Feel your energy is expanding, it's lifting now. And now I ask you: what will my life look like 20 years now? Just jump ahead now and you're looking back and seeing all of the opportunities that have unfolded, all the possibilities, all the ways you've expanded and stepped out and grown, all the contributions. Just let yourself go there. It's right there for you. See it, feel it, be grateful for it.

And now see your little self, your present self and your future self. Take a deep breath and as you breathe in feel them all coming together within you as one and as you breathe out, feel all of the riches of your past, your present and your future now coming into this now moment integrating, activating, and lifting you to a new frequency of gratitude, of joy, of expansiveness and possibility.

And just really briefly as during this moment, I'm going to continue to support you with a very quick quantum prayer, as I know that all there is is one life, one power, one presence that is forever broadcasting this inexhaustible abundance, this wealth, this health, this joy, this frequency of such power, such beauty, such radiance, such potential, and that right where each and every one of these individuals are, I am energetically speaking the word and it is dissolving and disintegrating those false concepts and lower frequencies. It is eliminating all the old stories of lack and limitation and separation and not enoughness, and it's stirring this divinity into new activity now, turning this cosmic tumbler into place and unleashing a vibrancy and an aliveness and a wisdom and a power like never before lifting them back to their home vibrational address, tuning them into that station where their music is already playing. It's happening now. Take a breath and receive it, feel gratitude for it. The gratitude is the evidence that it's already done and so it is. Amen.

Darius: Wow. I know people are feeling this. I know I felt a big energy shift. A lot of people right now just breathing in unison with us. Barb, and Ann and Kay and hundreds of other people that have tuning in and so many others.

I would love to do this. Share what you were feeling here. What came forward for you during this activation? What was that shadow? What did it need to heal? What did it need to set you free so your vibration can be unbounded, totally everything that you know it is and always has been.

Derek: And this is just one of the frequencies that we're playing with right now. So just imagine the possibility as you integrate all of these. I can tell you that the healing and the ability to bring forth a level of wealth and wellbeing and creative genius is it will literally blow your mind as these start to get activated and reintegrated again. Again I'm not speaking theory anymore. I'm speaking based on... You know, I'm like a mathematician just telling you two plus two equals four.

Darius: Yeah, yeah, yeah.

Derek: And it's very, very powerful stuff. And we had to do it kind of brief on this, but yeah...

Darius: Well I've heard you say that people can awaken their higher purpose, activate gifts that are there – latent. They can uncover hidden talents and abilities. They can dissolve and release the unconscious blocks and barriers, accelerate connection to spirit and certainly through all of that easily unleash more abundance and success.

And I'll never forget there was one person, Jennifer, who you did a healing on and she wrote into us and she said: 'Derek did a healing on me and I've been receiving many miracles. I was homeless. I was desperate. Now I'm in my own apartment. I'm engaged. My prescriptions have dwindled from 20 to 30 pills down to just two pills a day, which are also disappearing. I am a testament to the very reprogramming that Derek is sharing. God bless.' Jennifer in Boise.

Derek, I know people are writing in and feeling all of this. When you talk about Accelerated Quantum Healing 2.0, what is Accelerated Quantum Healing 2.0? What is it? What happens? What is it about?

Derek: Are we letting people know more about that as we go into that?

Darius: Yeah. Well, a lot of people are asking about this idea of quantum healing because it's something that is relatively... well, it's relatively needed in today's day and age.

Derek: Well, you know, as we've been talking about what it is and some of the reasons why it works, when I do this Accelerated Quantum Healing for someone what I'm doing is I'm activating. It's not just a one-time thing. It's a daily and multiple times a day activating at various levels. So I do an activation in the morning, I do an activation in the afternoon, I do another one even in the evening, and that's more of the shamanic part of it. So it's got many levels to it.

And it incorporates all of it - the vibrational, linguistic and shamanic aspects of healing, this energy, so that the person is literally blanketed or showered or bathed in these frequencies. And it just begins to dissolve those lower frequencies naturally without struggle because it's not a vibrational match anymore and the old frequencies just cannot live, they can't survive at that level just like the ice can't survive at 32 degrees.

I guess you could say I turn up the temperature. I turn up the temperature in your energetic environment so that those crystallized frequencies start to just melt away because they literally can't survive at that temperature or that frequency and. And sometimes, like I said, instantly sometimes... sometimes - this is interesting - because there's no time or space, sometimes the healings start to happen even before a person steps into a program or group or whatever I'm doing, because the minute they said yes, the minute they start to open up to it, because there's no time and space...

They actually did a test where they had people change the results of a laboratory process - experiment - change the results in... They were in the future. I'm trying to remember how they did it but the results that already happened but they haven't opened them up. And then they changed it from the future back to the...

Darius: Yeah, yeah.

Derek: You know what I'm talking about?

Darius: Oh, I do. Yes.

Derek: And so in the quantum field. This is actually another... I don't want to go off and whole other tangent, but this is so exciting about this. This quantum healing changes - I want people to hear this because I'm getting chills right now as I talk...

Darius: Yes.

Derek: It will literally change your past, like literally. Like you will become the person you would have become had your past been with everything you wanted it to be. And that's absolutely true.

So the healing goes back... Like even that little example as we're going back to your little child, as that energetically changes, understand then that trauma, that issue never happened to you. Energetically speaking, where you really live, it never happened.

There's even another way... I'll take one little step further. There's a story about a guy who is skiing down a mountain and he had one false leg and one real leg. He got caught in a snowstorm and he lost his leg. I mean, that's a very unique and specific thing. And he was caught in the snowstorm and he went into this space, this prayerful space, where he stepped out of time and he had this thing that I'm telling you about - this awareness of this click and this opening - and he knew that the answer was done, the prayer has been answered. And when he described it, it's exactly what I'm talking about. It's this click that happens that I know when it happened. And then all the sudden he started trudging on a mountain and he saw this cabin and he went into this abandoned cabin and he was drawn to and he was drawn to go to the closet and in the closet - this is a true story, folks - there was another false leg that he was able to put on and use and get down the mountain.

But now here's where the story gets really interesting. Cut back to the past where this person was moving out of that cabin, and as they were moving out they were taking this false leg with them as one of... They had several of them for whatever reason. They also had a disability. And as they were about to leave, they were suddenly overcome by this strong sense and they just knew that they were supposed to leave it.

Darius: Wow.

Derek: And so they left it. Now, folks, this was in the past. And so the question I have for you is: what happened first? Was it their sudden urge to leave it? Was it that that person activated the quantum field where all potentialities simultaneously exist and it changed the very fabric of the past? And I'll tell you from experience, it's all happening simultaneously.

So if you've all read the book Dying To Know Me, she also talks about the same thing. When she had a near-death experience, she saw it was all happening at the same time. So when I go into the quantum field and do this healing work, it's changing your past, your present and your future all simultaneously.

So I know that takes us down to a rabbit hole a little bit but here we go.

Darius: Yeah. Wow.

Derek: It's really powerful and I've seen it happened in my own life. I've seen things change in my life and my clients' that... like we begin to emerge as the person... Like I said, imagine as the person that was always there. It's like you suddenly step out of one story and into a whole new story. It's so exciting. I'm mean, yeah.

I'm going to be talking a lot more of this in my next program, but just understand that the universe has infinite organizing power and in the field it's all simultaneous. So it doesn't matter... And that includes your past life, if you believe in that. It's all happening now in the quantum field. So when we change the energetic frequency, it changes it everywhere in the field.

Darius: Right.

Derek: Not only that, but this is another little... I don't know if I say this, but it also - check this out - it also changes the frequency of your legacy and of your ancestry so that you're not just healing your life. Because your frequency is a part of a larger frequency - it's all one - you're actually changing the legacy for your children, for anybody that's part of your field and it changes the literal ancestry.

So ancestors that are still stuck or struggling, as this changes in the field for you it's actually going to create a new setpoint for those souls and spirits and beings that are actually looking to you and needing help. So I know that takes us pretty deep, but there you go. That's like the extra bonus stuff that happens with quantum healing.

Darius: You are, as we were talking about what quantum healing was and really getting into the juice and the core and the essence of it, I mean, this is exactly what we had to go through the whole call to really then begin to uncover more of these incredible truths, because for a lot of people I think it's just something that boggles the mind and it does because it's happening at a much higher level, at a quantum level.

We have quite a few people asking, Derek, what is some of that deeper work that you were doing for people? What was some of that more connected work? And I've got to say one of the things that people have been asking for here at the You Wealth Revolution is a chance to really go deeper with some of our most powerful healers, some of our most transformative teachers and speakers and healers. And Derek answered the call and there's a great opportunity to really go deep and get some of Derek's help to really clear that energetic field and go really beyond anything that we've ever allowed Derek to do with our community. And I'd love to talk a little bit about that, Derek. Tell us about what you have put together for people here at the You Wealth Revolution.

Derek: Yeah, this is really exciting. It's very exciting what we're doing now. I don't know if they just hit a button or they know where to go to follow along with this, this certainly can...

Darius: Yes. Let me give them the page. I'll share where it is and then we can kind of explain what's happening and why we opened this up. It's at www.youwealthrevolution.com/derek2013/Derek2013.

Derek: So, you know, as I've been doing this work now and a lot of the healing work has been private and I've been doing it for two decades now and I've discovered what works and what doesn't, what's needed additionally, and I keep asking when they do get results, why do they and when they don't get results, why don't they? What was missing?

And so my intention here was to design an experience what I call the Total Life Emergence, which is about a soul activation experience, is what is components need to be there so that it meets people right where they are with their level of pain or struggle or of desire and ambition and give them those missing pieces based on not just a theory or a trend but really two decades of working with clients personally and around the world.

So the big piece of this is this quantum healing work of course, because what I've found is that even when people have all the tools, even when they have great content, they have a lot of information, but I want to be like half the information, double the transformation.

Of course it's not going to be really less really good info stuff. for those of you that love all that good stuff, but the quantum healing... what I found it is that even when they've got all the information, the content, that we all are stuck at this various setpoints - what I said before, this vibrational inertia. And it's like a rocket ship. If it doesn't get a certain level of booster power, it can't break free of the gravity, of earth's gravitational pull, and it gets pulled back down to earth. Or an airplane, if it doesn't get a certain level of thrust, it can't get lift off.

And it's kind of like water. I don't know the exact temperature water boils. Let's say at 180 degrees. At 179 degrees it doesn't boil, because there's this inertia, there's this threshold. And so what I wanted to help... And I found that people would get up, they'd get to those thresholds and then that gravity would pull them back down again, and they wouldn't be able to break free of those old patterns, those unconscious patterns and frequencies that are blocking them and bringing them back into their old stories and back to those old setpoints.

So the quantum healing was designed to, like I said, to turn up the heat in their vibrational environment so that it would begin to lift the vibrational environment that they're in regardless of what they're doing so that it starts to melt away some of those vibrational blockages, some of those crystallized ice forms of thought and belief and habit energetically, and as that starts to melt away and as it has been melting away, then people are suddenly having more energy, they're having more insight, they're having more ability to do the work, they're having more guidance and direction and right action. It's like all of these potentialities are starting to emerge more naturally like the rocket suddenly getting past the gravity. Now it can move through space without much effort and the plane can now soar.

So that's what I've been experiencing as they've been having this and how it works is I do... In this program, it's the equivalent of at least 15 hours of energetic work for you.

In the morning, I do an energetic session to go into the field to activate that soul purpose blueprint, to dissolve and to have that click, that awareness that it's cleared. And then in the afternoon I do it again. And then in the evening before I go to sleep, I set the stage to do it even to be working on it even while I'm sleeping. And as I said before, I've had a lot, a lot of dreams where there's healing work going on. And for some of you you've probably have this where you suddenly meet a spiritual teacher or something in a dream or something happened and you're like: 'God, that just felt like more than a dream.' And it was. It was a shamanic journey. And that's happening all the time. So there's those three key components.

And then in addition to that, my commitment, at least during this program, is every time I drop into one of those high vibrational moments, I bring you in with me. So you'll just feel this hit. And I hear people saying like: 'Oh my God, you were praying, were you?' All the sudden it's like all this joy came over me. All the sudden this thing was just gone. And you see all these people talking, 'Were you just doing this? Were you doing this? What's going on?' And people are experiencing it. And so it's a lot of fun.

It's basically creating this blanket of energetic vibrational support that you can literally lean back into and lean on and start to live from. So that's what I'm doing with the quantum healing.

Darius: Let's go through...I'd like to go through some of the pieces. We're getting some questions.

Derek: Sure.

Darius: The first one, again, where is it? Is at www.youwealthrevolution.com/derek2013.

And, you know, I love the first thing you say is it's not your fault. It's really not your fault if you've been working for transformation but it hasn't happened. And the first level is the Accelerated Quantum Healing. So let me get this straight. For 30 days, you actually work with everybody that's in this program. 30 minutes a day for 30 days, which is literally like 15 hours of energy flowing to each person that joins this.

And so that's the first thing that happens. And I've heard you say that this actually will help people dissolve resentments, generate the energy of forgiveness, creating a healing field that can help just change the vibrational setpoint around challenges going on and with extent to even people in their life. Tell me about that. I mean, how can this affect others in their life? Do you mean like family, kids?

Derek: Yeah.

Darius: All that. Okay. Tell me about that.

Derek: Yeah, totally. I mean, we could talk for a long time about this, because what happens is that remember that your consciousness and your vibrational field is your real home. That's where you really live. You don't actually live in a physical structure. You're not in the world; the world is in your vibrational field.

And so whenever you hear like in ancient scriptures talking about your household and all that, the mystical or metaphysical beginning of that is your vibrational field, your consciousness. So as that vibrational field is shifted, everything and everyone in your household - see my air quote - in your household must... - because it's already happening - must make on the vibrational match of where you're living. Or if they're not willing or able, they will be moved in a way that serves the highest good of everyone.

So for example, if you're at a job - and this happened for me when I started doing this work and I was growing and increasing my vibrational setpoint and I got fired three times from this job and finally I stayed fired. But what happened is I wasn't a match for that job. I kept lifting up the vibration. But then what happened was that the job that I was a match for, which was my passion and my joy and also paid me 20 times more a day literally showed up, because my vibrational setpoint was a new point. Or I've literally had it where... I've seen clients have it where suddenly their spouse starts changing or their pet shifts, something shifts their pet.

Like this happened with me. I had a pet that was really crazy and as this vibrational setpoint changed, my pet became totally peaceful and all their issues and all the stuff, all the problems they were causing - gone. So animals and plants and children are particularly susceptible to new setpoints.

So you're creating a new vibrational household and your friends, your family, your clients or, as I said, also your ancestry and your legacy, all of that gets impacted by that.

Jesus said it made a statement - 'As I am lifted up from the earth, I draw all men and women onto me.' That was actually a quantum physics statement. He's saying the same thing. As you are lifted up vibrationally, you draw everything in your environment to that vibration.

Darius: Wow.

Derek: So that's why what I'm doing is I'm lifting up my vibration, I'm drawing everything in my environment to that, including my group and my clients, and together we're activating the group vibration, which is drawing everybody even more palpably up to that level, and then as a group we are all getting lifted up to that higher level, and in our cities and communities and families the frequency is being lifted. And this is also why it says in the Old Testament ten holy men can save an entire city, because vibrationally we have created a new field.

These are some of the byproducts, of course. I know what you care about most probably is how do I get healed, how do I get more money, more relationships and greater health? That's of course the first level of healing that takes place and then it spreads out from there.

Darius: Sorry to jump in. Someone was asking about the soul purpose activation. What I wanted to ask you about it is for people that want to connect with you, one of the things that we've been asking you for a long time is how can people actually connect with you live? And this is, I believe, a part of that, the soul purpose activation series that is also included in this special breakthrough session that's going to be happening. It's a really rapid breakthrough experience for literally three weeks starting on November 1st - so it is coming up. Tell me about the four sessions that are going to be happening with you and the people that decide to go forward.

Derek: Yes. So basically as I'm generating this field and I'm doing this energetic work, we're going to be coming together actually on these calls and I'm going to be walking you through these different soul purpose activation pieces so that you can... what I was talking about before, to help bring the rest of your energetic spectrum into congruence with that vibrational home address, that soul purpose blueprint.

So now we're dealing with the vibrational linguistics. This is where through my words, through your words, through my one-on-one work with you on these calls, I'm going to help you get back in touch with that purpose, that vision, that also has a very practical thing. It's like literally who am I meant to be in the world and how am I meant to be and what am I meant to do?

And then as I'm doing the vibrational work, we're also now getting your mental, emotional, verbal and physical components, which again are all part of your vibrational spectrum, getting all of that congruent. So I'm going to walk you through very real training.

So you'll have that hands-on training on the call and then I'm also going to do work with you, do hot seats and one-on-one with people to do very rapid breakthrough healing work on the call. So you're going to get to work... You're going to have the opportunity for that personal one-on-one as well as specifically how do you... You know I talked about those seven paths, do your purpose and all that? I'm going to walk you through how to get back in touch with that, how to become congruent and aligned, and how to step out on it fully. That's going to happen through those four weeks for real.

Then we're also going to have a private mastermind group - and this, by the way, it's third here but it's one of the most powerful, one of the beloved experiences that my community has where you're going to come together as a group and support each other in this work and I'm going to come in there and answer additional questions. And the energy and the love and the support of that group, it's so amazing, and if you haven't experienced it yet in this community, you are in for a real, real treat, because it's truly one of the most powerful things that people talk about.

So that's going to be an addition to support, to experience so that you can talk about what's going on with you, so that you can be supported and support others, you can find your kindred friends in there, and then I'll also be going there and answering deeper questions and clearing out more stuff as well.

So all that's happening. That's the live and interactive portion that's happening during this 21 to 30-day period. The 30-day energetic but the 21-day of the classes.

Darius: Yeah. Fantastic.

Derek: And there's a lot of steps in there if you want to look at what each week is going to entail with the work we're going to cover. It's very specific and very in-depth and we're going to be removing those blocks, removing those blinds, those vision blinders, and tuning you in step by step by step.

Darius: Okay. I want to talk a little bit more about some of the different pieces. You're getting some questions. A few people - Patricia, Glenda and Helen - said the webcast transmission may have cut off. So what we want to do in that case... It may be local. I know there's some storms in certain parts of the northeast. So just refresh your browser if you're listening in on the webcast and let me know that you guys can still hear us and you can still receive the energy that we're sending to everybody.

This is a deeper program that Derek has put together for us. It's a 21-day rapid breakthrough experience for people that starts November 1st and goes to the 21st. And in it there's quite a bit. There's first of all, the quantum healing that is accelerated. So daily for 21 days there's quantum healing energy that's sent to you, a direct line to higher energy every single day. And then each week Derek is going to get on the phone and connect with those of you that want that connection through and through.

If, Derek, somebody cannot, let's say, be on the live calls on the phone, what happens? Is there a recording or how can they get that energy that's being transmitted through those processes?

Derek: Absolutely, and that was exactly something in the last event that I did. The way it's set up energetically is even if you missed the actual call you're still in the field. And so you're still going to get the juice - and I can speak from experience - you're still going to get the juice of it and you're going to get access.

One of the bonuses is that this event is going to be an event that will be sold separately, the recordings of it, but I'm giving you the entire audio library of this event. So there'll be a whole separate bonus where you'll get all of the recordings. You're also going to get all of the recordings and transcripts. So you can look down here. There's going to be several ways that you're going to be able to have an entry to this work.

Darius: Wow.

Derek: So, you know, I'm going to walk you step-by-step, take you by the hand and walk you through the process of reconnecting and reactivating your soul purpose, which is more than just your job. It is truly who you are really here to be full out in every life structure and to unleash that for you, and also specifically how to be that in the world at a very practical way. And then I'm going to be also walking you step-by-step energetically through that process that's going to be supporting you. Then you're going to have the audios to re-listen and the very audios themselves are high frequency encoded audios. So they're going to carry with them a resonance.

People were saying the last time around that... This happened several times so I know it wasn't fluke. They would turn on the audio, they would start to listen, and all of a sudden the phone would ring. And it was literally like somebody started calling them and saying: 'I don't know why I'm calling you right now but I just felt the need to reach out to you.' And all the sudden that conversation turns into a healing or an opportunity and then they would literally go back...

One person this happened twice in a row. They couldn't even get through the audio. They went back to the audio and start listening in the door knocked. And it was a neighbor who they had an issue with and the neighbor was struggling and all a sudden that conversation turned into the neighbor confessing and a breakthrough and a breakdown and a healing and it was like: 'Look, I couldn't get through the audio because breakthroughs and healings kept happening.'

And that happened to a few different people. So there's an energetic that happens even if it's just playing in the background. So you're going to get that.

And then you're also going to have the transcripts. So if you like to read stuff, you're going to be able to go through each thing and underline and highlight. So it's going to address all of you wherever is your favorite entry point. And then you're going to also be able to engage on the calls if you want and also in the Facebook private mastermind group.

So we've set it up... This is I was saying before. I've set it up so there's an entry point for everyone and there's multiple points for you to engage in to get the full-bodied whole-souled experience of transformation. And in my experience, all these pieces that I've added in have allowed people to, like I said, have rapid and quite abundant breakthroughs.

Darius: Okay. It's at www.youwealthrevolution.com/derek2013.

I've got two other questions. Number One is about the weekly vibrational recordings that you're going to put together, but I've got another question about some of the experiences that people experienced when you did a program like this not too long ago. So I'd love to talk about both of those.

Derek: Yeah, now with the... Yeah, what I am also going to do - I forgot that was another bonus - I'm going to do these weekly quantum prayers that will be specifically about the energetic needs of the group and tune in to those particular frequencies that need to be either dissolved or activated. And that will be an additional thing that you'll have.

And the reason I created this is because what I found was a lot of clients, whenever I would do this on the line with them, they would actually cut it apart and create a separate recording of it and they would listen to it over and over and over again, and even put it on a loop. And what they found is that it was like this energetic... It just would work. It was working on them all the time. And the other added benefit was that even just by hearing me speak these truths and activates these spiritual truths about them, they embodied and integrated them in a permanent way, and that same language started showing up in their own prayer and meditation and work. So like they literally embodied it.

And so I'm adding that in there because I want to give people that extra level of embodiment so that you will... My intention is to download and integrate you so that... You know, I'm not about creating followers; I'm about creating leaders. I'm about embodying people to become their own masters. So this helps towards that.

Darius: I got this question from Sandy who's asking for people that have been working on transformation, why is this something that might help them if other things have not? I think that's a great question.

Derek: Yeah, and I did address that a little bit before. The problem is that so often when we are trying to do transformational work we're doing it from a false premise of who we are. We think something's missing, something's lacking, something's broken, and energetically that is not your vibrational home address. So it's kind of like you've... Let's just think of it this way. Every time you pray and set an intention, that prayer is answered, but it's like you've just putting an order with the universal catalogue, right? But where is that universe going to deliver your package? It's going to deliver it to your home. But if you're not living there vibrationally, you're not going to receive it. So do you get what I'm saying, Darius?

Darius: Yes. Yes.

Derek: So vibrationally if you're not living at your home address, you're activating these prayers and all these wonderful packages and gifts and riches, they're getting delivered to your home address but you're not there vibrationally. And that's what I found is happening with so many people and that's why when they suddenly come back into alignment through this work, they don't just get what they're working on right now, but you end up getting what you've been working on all along, because it's all stacked up at your front door energetically. It's what the Bible means when it says: 'All the years the locusts have eaten shall be restored onto you.' It's saying all that stuff you've missed, all that stuff you think you've lost, when you come home again vibrationally it's all waiting for you. You didn't miss a thing.

Darius: Yes.

Derek: I mean, just imagine that image of all these packages, all these prayers that have been activated, it's all piled up outside the door and around the back and all the mail's sitting there and nobody's there to receive it. When you come home again, it's like Christmas time.

So that's one of the things that people... That's why one of the reasons people experience sometimes rapid or big breakthroughs is because they've been working on something and once they come home vibrationally they can finally receive it.

Darius: Quick. What are some things that you've seen happen? A lot of people have questions about that. I also want to share a lot of things have been happening on... Okay, a few questions. Let's see...

First let's talk a little about some of the things you saw happen last time, because I think that always interest people of what could be a potential; what could be something that opens up their life. Let's share that. And then we've got some logistical questions about the program. It's at www.youwealthrevolution.com/derek2013.

This is the first time Derek's ever offered this to the You Wealth community and this is much deeper and much more powerful than anything you've ever experienced from Derek. So it is there at www.youwealthrevolution.com/derek2013.

Derek: And I want to say also, Darius, and this is very true, that it's the only place that I'm offering this outside of my own private community. So I would never offer this at this rate and at this level on like just an event like this. It really was specifically designed for your community.

Darius: Okay.

Derek: And you will never see me offering this on any other event. And also this is the only time that I have planned to be offering this. So just a few little logistical things that people know that this is the only place they're going to get it unless you're already in my private community and this is the only time you're going to get it.

So if you're feeling a call to stop struggling with solving and improving and fixing your life and you've been trying everything and it's not working and you want to feel the level of support and breakthroughs that we've been talking about and also understand that it's happening during a time of year... One of the other things that's happening here and why it's scheduled for this time of year is it's a time where a lot of old stuff is needing to be completed and unfinished business and unhealed stuff it's all starting to fall and it needs to be dealt with energetically so that you don't carry it into the next year.

So a lot of clearing, a lot of healing, and really a preparation. This is all designed to prepare you so that you can truly have a really rock solid energetic emotional vibrational foundation to just launch into the next phase of your life, into the New Year, and even make this year when you might think it's been going down the wrong path and nothing good's going to happen actually end this year on a high note.

So that's why it's sort of designed this way. What if this year you can look back and go: 'Oh my God, I thought this year wasn't going to be that great,' and like - bam! – it happened? What if you could end it on a high note? What if you can really feel a sense of powerful completion? And what if you can move into the next year truly inspired with the vision, with the groundwork laid to launch into that?

That's why it's such a powerful time of year to be doing this and doing it live. So that's just an added element to understanding why it's design this way and during this time. There's an energetic congruence just in general in the atmosphere that will make it that much more potent to happen at this time.

Darius: Let's hear some of the things that you saw happen. A lot of people are asking about specific issues and I think sometimes a few just examples of what you've seen happen in some of this deeper work would be a great way for people to really crosscheck is this something for me or something that could serve me?

Derek: Yeah, and I think there's probably a dozen or more on this page of examples of things that have happened for people and I've mentioned some of them before.

Like I said, the last time I did one just for my community where we did this live interaction, this quantum healing work, the healings, like I said, I still haven't caught up with all testimonials and responses, because they were literally coming in every single day, multiple ones every single day.

It's like: 'I'm about to lose my house,' - it starts off with. 'Now I'm making more money than I was making ever before and I've saved my house.' 'I've got all this debt,' - to start off with. 'Oh my God, this person just called me and suddenly this debt's are all paid off.' 'This person's owed me money for two years. All the sudden into the second class they gave me a call and they're going to pay it off.'

Like literally what would you call miraculous things, because remember... not just based on what people are doing but those kind of shifts you hear that just seem to happen, because remember you're a field of energy, and so as this energy shifts, everybody that's connected to you shifts. And so those people that you've had unforgiveness with, those people that have owed you money, those people that you owed money, they're affected by this, and that's why we get these things that people are saying. 'Suddenly, I had this money that was owed to me for years and they suddenly paid it off.' 'I had this money that I owed for years and suddenly they said: 'You don't have to worry about it. Consider the debt is gone.' 'Or this person that I've been at odds with and haven't spoken to for a couple of years, they called me out of the blue and didn't know why and we healed that re-...'

Like this is the kind of thing that's happening over and over and over and over again. And then there's other examples. I mean, if you just look down the page. I mean, like I said, people on the verge of bankruptcy, people that haven't been able to get a job, people that have been suffering from other various symptoms.

One person who had PTS for 10 years had tried all these different healing modalities and doing this work she said: 'Something just happened and now I'm absolutely fine. My health is perfect now, my business is booming now.' It's an example that as the frequency shifted became a home again and at their vibrational home address there's no PTS. At their vibrational home address life is good.

And so again that's why it's not so much that we're adding anything to you; it's that we're bringing you home where all the good has already been all along.

Derek: But it looks like a healing, it looks like a breakthrough, it looks like somebody shows up and gives you something.

So these are the kind of examples that have been happening and again there's so many of them. I feel almost a little silly just rattling them off one after the other. But there's also a lot of, like I said, deep emotional shifts that have happened for people where they've been struggling with depression and it lifts suddenly; where they have been just so angry and they're just not anymore and in many cases they don't even know why. Or what's another example of somebody that... an example. I'm trying to think of a few more that came through. Or there's one person who suddenly made – like out of the blue - like several hundred thousand dollars. Another person I think made - I already said this - made more in a month than they'd made in an entire year before.

Just so many. So many.

Darius: Wow. Wow.

Derek: A lot of people coming into their purpose, really, like I said, suddenly realizing... like they suddenly like: 'Oh my God. I know what I'm here for. I know what I'm going to do.' And you cannot underestimate how liberating that is to a person when they suddenly have that clarity and that energy to suddenly go for what they're really here for.

Darius: Wow. Yeah, and that can shift so much as well, I think, when you really tap into that soul purpose and soul blueprint. That contains many areas at once. There's no question in my mind and in my heart. And what we wanted to do is give people a chance to go deeper with Derek in the way that really only Derek can. He's a very unique guest and healer on this show and very thorough in what he does.

So if you are here and maybe you've been in development for many years or you've been in consciousness for decades and you've been lingering or there have been things that just haven't really been coming together the way you want - or maybe they were and sometime around 2012, 2013 or so, things just went off the rails. We're getting a lot of that.

Derek is somebody that deeply energetically understands. And the shift isn't happening outside of you; it's happening within you and it is then generated from you so then you are the master of your life.

And so if you're interested in going deeper, it's at www.youwealthrevolution.com/derek2013.

I want to share... It's actually one payment... We have two options. There's an installment plan if you want to be a part of this and lock in your space. It actually is starting November 1st. Is that right, Derek?

Derek: Yeah.

Darius: November 1st.

Derek: There was just one other thing, one little last element about why some of the people might have felt things going off the rails or an increase of pressure or struggle is that there's a larger picture going on here. Energetically the frequency of the planet is changing, because of the frequency of the universe. This whole shift is happening. It's up-leveling us. And so the individuals...and so... and remember how you said it either changes you or it pushes you out as the frequency shifts?

Darius: Right.

Derek: So why we're feeling an increase or we're feeling things getting worse or off track is because you're a part of that energetic shift and it's like now more than ever it behooves us to get really aligned with what that soul purpose frequency is, so that we can be aligned with this larger shift that's going on. And as that happens, it's not just that you avoid the increased frustration and struggle that is in store for those that are not in alignment, but you actually get an additional lift and you start to realize that you're not doing life; life is doing you; that there's a larger activity that is living you and you're just riding that energetic wave the more you're aligned with it.

So that's why this is such an important thing right now and it's also why it's focused on that... not just general energetic healing, because again that's the problem. People do a lot of general energetic healing and why doesn't it stick, why doesn't it work? It's because they're still trying to heal a problem. And that's the big stuff why this is so different. As far as I can tell, almost anything else that's happening is because by getting you back in touch with the vibrational frequency that's already perfect... Remember we're not trying to avoid the wall; we're trying to get you back vibrationally on track with what's really unfolding - the truth about you. So that's why it works so much more rapidly and it's sustainable. So there's just a couple of distinction that I wanted to throw out there.

Darius: Yes, very powerful. So in November 1st it starts and there are payment plans available as well for people that want to do that. Two installments of $149 or one payment of $297 plus a huge number of bonuses - weekly recorded quantum prayers, soul activation series, transcripts, soul purpose activation series, audio library so you don't miss anything, and really that energetic connection with Derek and his work.

And, Derek, you talked about healing on a daily basis and sending that energy to people. Is that sometimes what people need just to get over or to get that lift, to get that support, to get that blanket to take them and keep them safe and warm and just over the pain times that show up in our life?

Derek: Well, that's what I found. What I've found... Again there's a line in the Bible that says: 'Leaning back to the everlasting arms of God.' And energetically speaking we're creating that field for people to lean into and to begin to be energetically supported by. And I just found that was a big missing piece that I found was that even when people were trying to do all these tools, that they didn't have the energy to support them, because they were in resistance, consciously or unconsciously. They couldn't get that escape velocity. They couldn't break free from the gravity of their old energetic patterns and they just find themselves back in the same place again.

And so the main purpose here is not just to heal people and to activate those potentials but to give people that energetic framework and support system that can break them free of that gravity, of those inertial forces that have been keeping... It's why the average person doesn't live 70 to 90 years. They live the same year 70 to 90 times, because we're just circling that same energetic pattern. So this is designed to help you break out of that and then you can really say Happy New Year, Happy New You and really mean it, because you're in a whole new energetic setpoint.

Again, understand unless you raise your energetic setpoint, your life will not change. You may change your location, you may change your job, you may change your mates, you may even change your underwear - I hope so -but it will be the same story. And so this is about setting you at a higher energetic setpoint, a brand new higher setpoint that's where... Like I said, as you do that, the problems aren't solved, they dissolve and a whole new world of possibilities is opened up for you.

Darius: Wow. Okay. This is at www.youwealthrevolution.com/derek2013 and it's there. Total Life Emergence, a breakthrough of 21 days from November 1st to the 21st and it's available now.

For those people that get started and say: 'Well, what am I going to be doing before the time starts?' What happens kind of in the interim for those that join earlier? – and I know we're already getting quite a few people joining up. What happens in the interim?

Derek: Well, that's a good question and I'm glad you asked, because it's a bonus. I don't actually say this usually but I've... Remember I said that the minute you step into that, you know in your heart you're committed to something? Energetically you start getting pulled right away into that field.

I'll be doing the work for all of you even before this thing starts. So just know that and be aware, notice how things already start to shift in your life even as early as today or tomorrow, because you're already in the field. And remember, because there's no time or space, the healings you're meant to have now that you're stepping into it and saying yes to it, you can already start having those even before the program starts, just like that skier with the leg and the prayer and all of that. It's all simultaneous. I know to some of you that might still sound a little like: 'Whoa, that's so out there.'

Darius: That's what we love to do here!

Derek: But I'm telling you what I know. If you're open and willing, you can start to have the healings that you are meant to have as part of this program even before it starts.

Darius: Wow.

Derek: And then you'll step into the program... Because it's already happened. Your healing has already happened. That's the vibration. Just feel that because I got a really strong jolt when I said that.

So just right now, hear me folks. Your healing has already happened. Now step into that vibration with me. Step into that and just know that inner yes inside of you... If you're hearing the yes and you're feeling the resonance with this work and you're wanting to do it but it's bumping up against those thresholds, which again is the oak tree bumping up against the acorn, the protective shell, and it's saying things like: 'What if it doesn't work for me? What if I don't have time? I don't have enough time. I don't have enough energy. I don't have enough money. I don't have the support.' All that stuff just understand that's the energetic shell that is designed by the ego to keep you, the acorn, when you are really meant to be a mighty oak. But the inner yes, the inner resonance that it feels good, that you feel like... that's the oak tree trying to emerge, that's the butterfly trying to emerge out of the cocoon.

And I know it's scary, but in my experience what I found is that if you feel that inner resonance, that inner yes, that is your energetic beacon. That's like your home, the porch light. You're getting a glimpse of the porch light for your energetic vibrational home.

If you're willing to step towards that, you will start to open up energetically, you will start to lift your frequency and you will actually start to experience breakthroughs and opportunities that will support you kind of like in Indiana Jones when he has to cross that bridge and it's just a chasm... And he tries to wait for the bridge to appear and look at it from different angles. And it only appears when he starts stepping. Only when he steps out on it does it appear beneath his feet.

So if and only if you're feeling this... even if it's a faint little glow like: 'Oh God, I really want to do this. Oh, this feels so good.' But that initial 'this feels so good' is the yes, and all the excuses for why you don't think you can - and this isn't, by the way, me trying to convince; this is just me coaching you - that's all the ways that you've been stopping yourself all along in your life. That's like a little microcosm of like that snapshot of how you've been unwittingly keeping yourself stuck.

And so right here in this moment, whatever's coming up to fight against that inner yes, that's the little drama that plays out every time you are having an opportunity to grow in your life. And if you're willing to say yes and step into it based on the energetic framework we're creating here - wow - I can just tell you that life can change at some very dramatic and powerful ways.

Darius: Yeah. Fantastic.

Derek: Yeah.

Darius: Fantastic. Okay, it's at www.youwealthrevolution.com/derek2013 and this is a rapid breakthrough experience and it is there. You can learn all about it and be a part and it. And it is also direct healing work, quantum healings from Derek, and it is daily, twice a day for 21 days.

Derek: Three times. Three times a day.

Darius: Three times a day for 21 days. And we're doing this because so many people have been asking for more support, more touch to know... for Derek to know who you are, to know what you need, and to be there for you.

So this really like I'd say a backstage pass to a dramatic quantum healing experience and it's not just you're going to get some recordings and things. You're going to be connected to Derek and he wants to connect to you.

So that's what it is. We're so happy to be the first to bring it to you. And there it is.

Derek, anything else you want to share or anything else just coming to you? I know we've gone away long so we're going to need to wrap it up, but anything else that you feel or anything else you want to share?

Derek: There's a couple of things. One quick thing is that... Well, just logistically one thing is because I will be opening.... Oh, I will be opening this up to my community too, my private community, that we will max this out. So if people are feeling that call, that's just something to think about - again only if you're feeling the call.

The other thing is what I find is that once people get this deep energetic connection with me, it's quantum physics... what they call quantum entanglement. Once we are connected energetically at that deep of a level after doing that kind of work, we are energetically connected forever.

And so what happens is that they showed it with atoms. Once these atoms are intimately connected and they split them apart, whenever one of them starts to move or phase shift, the other one starts to shift along with it.

So what's happening is that once people have been connected energetically this deeply with me – and found this to be the truth with some of my teachers - as I keep growing and shifting and lifting even after the course is done, you're going to gain all the benefits of that as well. So like forever, like forever, like forever you're going to be lifted and supported energetically, because now once that connection happens in the quantum field, even though we may be separated by galaxies, by many, many miles, every time I shift and have an insight and a breakthrough and my frequency gets lifted, it's going to lift you too. So you just think about that.

That's why I notice sometimes all... some of my great master teachers, I notice I'll hear something from them out in the world and they're having a shift and I'll look at what's happened to my life and I go: 'Oh my God, that's the same shift I just had.'

Darius: The same shift. Wow. Okay.

Derek: That's a little added bonus. It's a lifetime membership. You basically get a lifetime membership into the energetic uplift community.

Darius: Wow.
